ARCHIPOL

A UNIVERSE

ArchiPol is a singer who writes and performs songs that are romantic, melancholic and sublimely quirky.

With the vocal cheekiness of Juliette, the musical versatility of Gainsbourg, the irreverence of Jacques Dutronc and the louche wit of Boris Vian, he sings about every aspect of life in a modern city.

ArchiPol creates intimate songs, telling stories that are inviting, atmospheric and full of charm. No single song resembles another.

Yet somehow, with his unique writing style, he effortlessly links them all together.

A NEW EP IN 2020

After several years of living in London, ArchiPol returned to France, where he is currently working on his next EP.

Accompanied by his cello or his guitar, he performs regularly in Paris and throughout France. He crosses the Channel to sing his songs in well-known London venues, including Pizza on the Park, the Toulouse Lautrec Jazz Club and the Chelsea Arts Club.

A VOICE

ArchiPol chose an eclectic path of study which began at Sciences Po in Paris and continued in the United States and the United Kingdom. While studying at London's prestigious Royal College of Music, he immersed himself in one of the most demanding art forms of all : opera. After this extensive training, ArchiPol began to forge and create his own unique voice.
